GLOSSARIAL INDEX

THE PRINTED ENGLISH LITERATURE

THE THIRTEENTH CENTURY

BY

PREFACE.

THE present publication may be considered as the foundation-stone of the Historical and Literary portion of the Philological Society's proposed English Dictionary. Its appearance in a separate form has been necessitated by the nature of the scheme, on which that work is being constructed. Without entering into details, which will be found in the Society's published Prospectus,* it will be sufficient for the present purpose to mention, that the raw material of the Dictionary, the words and authorities, are being brought together by a number of independent collectors, for whom it is consequently necessary to provide some common standard of comparison, whereby each may ascertain what he is to extract, and what to reject, from the author, or work, he has undertaken. This standard for works of earlier date than 1526 is furnished by the following pages, which contain an alphabetical inventory of every word found in the printed English literature of the 13th century. As, however, a mere index verborum would but inadequately fulfil its object, a certain amount of explanatory and etymological matter has been added, which it is hoped may render the work more generally interesting and useful than could otherwise have been the case. It is only proper to add that English literature, as distinguished from Semi-Saxon, is assumed to commence about the middle of the 13th century.

All words are arranged under their modern forms, where such exist, but the older forms, except where utterly unimportant, are always noticed. The more remarkable of these older forms are also entered in the Glossary in their alphabetical order, with cross references to that under which the word is discussed. Thus under 'Hymn' and 'Isle' will be found the forms 'ympne' and 'ydle;' but 'ympne' and 'ydle' appear also in their proper places in the iv PREFACE.

Glossary. Obsolete words are of course entered as they are spelt in the passage whence they are taken, a rule which applies as much to different forms of the same word, as to different words. As to the etymological matter, nothing further as a general rule has been attempted than to indicate the nearest cognate, or cognates, of the particular word; but it has not been thought necessary, or desirable, to load the Glossary with illustrations of this nature in very simple cases. I have to thank Hensleigh Wedgwood, Esq., for many kind and valuable suggestions in this part of my work.

My best thanks are also due to the Rev. J. Eastwood, the Rev. W. H. Herford, to my colleague Mr F. J. Furnivall, and to Messrs M'Ewan and Harrison, for their valuable assistance in the formation of separate indexes to several of the works comprised in this Glossary. Their respective shares in the work are pointed out in the List of Books and Editions, which will be found in page v.

And I cannot terminate this brief preface without expressing my deep sense of the obligations I am under to Sir F. Madden, not merely for the help of his invaluable editions of Lazamon and Havelok, without which this work would have been far less complete than it now is, but also for much kind personal advice and assistance, which probably few, if any, living philologists beside himself would have been competent to bestow. It only remains for me to add that, although no pains have been spared to render the book as complete as possible, I cannot but expect that some omissions and errors will be discovered, more especially as the largest and most laborious portion of the work was carried on during a long period of ill health. I shall feel very grateful to those who discover any addenda, if they will kindly communicate them to me for insertion hereafter in the Dictionary itself.

HERBERT COLERIDGE.

LIST OF BOOKS AND EDITIONS

REFERRED TO.

- * * All the following pieces are cited by the number of the verse, except where the contrary is expressly mentioned.
- Havelok the Dane. Edited by Sir F. Madden, for the Roxburgh Club. (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
- Geste of Kyng Horn. Edited by M. Michel, for the Bannatyne Club. (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
 - (N.B. The text of this poem in the second vol. of Ritson's Metrical Romances is taken from a later MS., and differs considerably from the Bannatyne text.)
- Kyng Alysaunder. In Weber's Metrical Romances, vol. I. (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
- The Land of Cokaygne. In Hickes's Thesaurus, vol. I. p. 231. (By Mr Furnivall.)
- The Life of St Margaret (cited by stanzas), Metrical Version of the Athanasian Creed, pp. 224, 233. (By Mr Furnivall.)
- The Owl and Nightingale. Edited by Mr Wright for the Percy Society. (By Mr Furnivall and Mr H. Coleridge.)
- Fragment on Popular Science, from the Early English Metrical Lives of Saints, in Mr Wright's 'Popular Treatises on Science.' (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
- Specimens of Lyric Poetry, temp. Edw. I. Edited by Mr Wright, for the Percy Society. (By Mr M'Ewan.)
- Various Pieces in the Reliquiæ Antiquæ (cited by volume and page). (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
- Political Songs, temp. Hen. III. and Edw. I. Edited by Mr Wright, for the Camden Society. (By the Rev. W. H. Herford.)
- Ritson's Ancient Songs, Class I. Most of these songs, however, are contained in the Specimens of Lyric Poetry, temp. Ed. I., and are quoted from that collection. (By Mr Harrison.)
- Religious Songs, printed at the end of the Percy Society's edition of the Owl and Nightingale. (By Mr H. Coleridge.)
- Dialogue between the Soul and Body. In the Appendix to Mapes's Poems, edited by Mr Wright, for the Camden Society, p. 334. (By the Rev. J. Eastwood.)

The Early English Psalter. Edited by the Rev. J. Stevenson, for the Surtees' Society. Cited by the psalm and verse. (By Mr H. Coleridge.)

Robert of Gloucester's Chronicle. Ed. Hearne (2nd ed., 1810). Cited by the page. (By Mr. H. Coleridge.)

The Legend of St Brandan. Edited by Mr Wright, for the Percy Society. (By the Rev. J. Eastwood.)

The Life and Martyrdom of Thomas Beket. Edited by Mr Black, for the Percy Society. (By the Rev. J. Eastwood.)

(Owing to the gross inaccuracy of the marginal numbering in the printed edition of this poem, it has been found necessary to go over the whole afresh, and to cite according to the amended reckoning. The following data will assist the reader:—The first error occurs in page 64, where the line numbered 1280 should be 1282. The second occurs in page 100, where ten lines are dropped, and 1961 is printed for 1973, the true number. The third will be found in page 110, where 2049 is made to succeed 2139, and after this, of course, the confusion is hopeless. The exact number of lines in the poem is 2515, while the printed numbers give only 2398. Readers are therefore requested to renumber their copies from page 64 onwards, before attempting to verify the references in the Glossary.)

The following pieces will be printed in the second part of the Philological Society's Transactions for 1858, and are therefore included in the Glossary. I am indebted to the kindness of my friend and colleague, Mr Furnivall, for the loan of his transcripts.

A Moral Ode. MS. Egerton, 613. Cited by stanzas.

(Hickes printed Extracts from this Ode, in his Thesaurus, vol. I. p. 222, from one of the Digby MSS.; but his text is somewhat different from that of the Egerton MS., and omits nine stanzas contained in the latter.)

A Sermon (cited by stanzas),
Signa Ante Judicium,
A Fragment on the Seven Sins,
                                                                 MS. Harl.
The Ten Commandments,
Christ on the Cross.
A Poem on Miracles, containing a Tale of an Oxford Student,
The Fall and Passion,
The Legends of St Dunstan,
    St Katherine,
    St Andrew,
    St Lucy,
                                                     from MS. Harl. 2277.
    St Swithin,
    St Edward,
    Pilate,
    Judas Iscariot,

A few references will also be found to the Manuel des Pecches of Robert Brunne, now being edited by Mr Furnivall, for the Roxburgh Club, but the proof-sheets came into my hands too late to allow of anything like a complete analysis of the language of the poem.

OTHER WORKS REFERRED TO IN THE GLOSSARY.

PROPOSAL FOR THE PUBLICATION

OF

A NEW ENGLISH DICTIONARY,

BY THE

PHILOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

A YEAR ago the Philological Society determined to form a collection of words hitherto unregistered in the Dictionaries of Johnson and Richardson, with a view of publishing a supplementary volume, which might be used with either of those works. A committee was appointed, circulars were issued. and the public as well as members of the Society were invited to take part in the work. The result has been, that upwards of 100 collectors have voluntarily given their services, and more than 160 works and parts of works have been submitted to examination upon a uniform system. The success of the experiment was so encouraging, that some members of the Society, unwilling that the energies thus brought into play should be expended in the production of a work necessarily of a subordinate and imperfect character, strongly urged the propriety of extending the scheme to the compilation of a new and more Scientific Dictionary than any at present existing. This proposal was, after much deliberation, entertained and accepted, and the Philological Society, at its meeting of January 7, 1858, resolved that, instead of the Supplement to the standard English Dictionaries, then in course of preparation by the Society's Unregistered Words Committee, a New Dictionary of the English Language should be prepared under the authority of the Philological Society. The work has been placed by the Society in the hands of two Committees; the one Literary and Historical, consisting of the Very Rev. the Dean'of Westminster, F. J. Furnivall, Esq., and H. Coleridge, Esq., Secretary; and the other Etymological, consisting of Hensleigh Wedgwood, Esq., and Professor Malden; and the former of these Committees will edit the Dictionary and direct the general working of the scheme. Arrangements for the publication of the work in 5s. Parts have been made with Messrs. Trübner and Co., of Paternoster Row.

The object of the present Prospectus is twofold: first, to lay before the public, as concisely as possible, the main outlines of the plan upon which the New Dictionary will be constructed, and to ask from that public such further help in the reading and noting of books as will enable the plan to be carried out satisfactorily; and, secondly, to furnish our contributors with such a system of rules as will direct them to the principal points to be attended to in perusing and analysing the books they may undertake, and also ensure general uniformity in the results arrived at. It will of course be understood that we cannot, within the limits of a mere circular like the present, do more than state the conclusions at which we have arrived, without attempting to enter into any arguments in. their behalf, or any refutations by anticipation of possible objections. The whole subject will be most naturally and conveniently discussed in the preface to the work itself, and we must reserve our defence, if any be thought necessary, until that appears. Those who may wish for further satisfaction as to our lexicographical creed, than what can be gathered from this Prospectus, are referred to the Dean of Westminster's Essay "On some Deficiencies in our English Dictionaries," which leaves no important portion of the subject unnoticed.

I. We may begin then by stating that, according to our view, the first requirement of every lexicon is, that it should contain every word occurring in the literature of the language it professes to illustrate. We entirely repudiate the theory, which converts the lexicographer into an arbiter of style, and leaves it in his discretion to accept or reject words according to his private notions of their comparative elegance or inclegance. In the case of the dead languages, such as Greek, no lexicon of any pretensions would omit the ἄπαξ λεγόμενα of Lycophron, or the experimental coinages of Aristophanes and the other comedians; and as we are unable to perceive any difference between a dead and living language, so far as lexicographical treatment is concerned, it follows that we cannot refuse to admit words into the Dictionary which may not be sanctioned by the usage of more than one writer, or be conformable in their structure to our ideas of taste. However worthless they may be in themselves, they testify to a tendency of language, and on this account only, if on no other, have a distinct and appreciable value.

II. We admit as authorities all English books, except such as are devoted to purely scientific subjects, as treatises on electricity, mathematics, &c., and works written subsequently to the Reformation for the purpose of illustrating provincial As soon as a standard language has been formed, which in England was the case after the Reformation, the lexicographer is bound to deal with that alone; before that epoch, however, the English language was in reality another name for the sum of a number of local languages, all exhibiting the English type as opposed to the Saxon, and therefore all equally entitled to notice as authorities in the formation of a Dictionary. At the same time we reserve to ourselves a discretion of deciding, in doubtful cases, what shall or shall not be deemed a Dictionary authority, -a discretion which from special causes may often be required and usefully exercised without at all infringing on the generality of the principles we have just laid down.

III. The limits of quotation in point of time are next to be fixed. We have decided to commence with the commencement of English, or, more strictly speaking, with that definite appearance of an English type of language, distinct from the preceding semi-Saxon, which took place about the end of the reign of Henry III. Of course this, like every other line of demarcation, is hard to draw, and occasions a few apparent incongruities, some of the books included in our thirteenth-century list retaining much more of their Saxon matrix than others; but on the whole it would be difficult, if not impossible, to fix the limit lower down without excluding books which it would be most undesirable to lose.

IV. In the treatment of individual words the historical principle will be uniformly adopted;—that is to say, we shall endeavour to show more clearly and fully than has hitherto been done, or even attempted, the development of the sense or various senses of each word from its etymology and from each other, so as to bring into clear light the common thread which unites all together. The greatest care will also be taken to fix as accurately as possible, by means of appropriate quotations, the epoch of the appearance of each word in the language, and, in the case of archaisms and obsolete words, of their disappearance also; and the limits of the various phases of meaning exhibited by each individual will be defined, as far as possible, in like manner and by the same means.

V. Lastly, in the Etymological department of our work, where, as is well known, there is the most pressing need for improvement, we shall, in addition to the proximate origin of each word, exhibit several of its affinities with the related languages for the sake of comparison, always including that language which seems to present the radical element contained in the word in its oldest form. Examples illustrating our meaning will be found in the sequel, pp. 12–17.

The same principle of volunteer cooperation will apply to this portion of our work as to the other, and the labours of any contributors who may be willing to send in suggestions as to difficult etymologies, or emendations of those already in the Dictionaries, or lists of words illustrating any philological laws, such as those of letter-change, will receive every consideration.

And such contributions as the Etymological Committee shall deem worthy of insertion, in cases where there is room for a fair difference of opinion, a'though they may not themselves adopt the views therein propounded, will in all cases be distinguished by the initials of the contributors. It may be added here, that the following gentlemen have kindly consented to aid the Etymological Committee by their advice and assistance in doubtful cases:—The Lord Bishop of St. David's, Sir F. Madden, Professor Key, Professor Goldstücker, Thos. Watts, Esq., Rev. J. Davies, Professor Siegfried, Dr. Halbertsma, M. de Haan Hettema, &c.

. We must now recur to the Literary and Historical portion of our work, in order to state the points on which we ask for help. The periods into which our language may, for philological purposes, be most conveniently divided, are three:—1. From its rise, cir. 1250, to the Reformation—of which the appearance of the first printed English translation of the New Testament in 1526 may be taken as the beginning. 2. From the Reformation to Milton (1526-1674, the date of Milton's death). 3. From Milton to our own day. As a general rule, we desire to give instances of the use of every word in each of these periods, or in as many of them as it occurs in, besides noting all changes of sense, &c.,—though, considering the unequal importance of different words, we reserve to ourselves the discretion of diminishing or increasing the number of quotations to be given under any word. In order, therefore, to carry out our desire, and recollecting that we have to catch every word on its first appearance in our literature, we shall shortly issue an alphabetical list of all A.D. 1250-1300 words. We shall then ask our contributors to read among them all the printed books of the remainder of the first period, viz. 1300-1526, the fourteenth-century literature being taken first; each contributor giving us extracts containing both the new and the obsolete words occurring in the particular books taken by him that fall within our rules hereinafter given.

For the period 1526 to Milton, we shall ask each contributor for a quotation for every word, phrase, idiom, &c., in his book that does not occur in the Concordances to the Bible and Shakspere, or that to the Bible only, if the Shakspere Concordance be unprocurable*. It is true that this plan will fail to give the earliest use of those few words which, though used in the Bible or Shakspere, yet were first used by some of the earlier writers of the interval between 1526 and Shakspere; but the universal accessibility of Cruden's Concordance, as one of the bases of comparison, presents advantages too great, as our former experience has taught us, to be lightly overlooked; and we must trust to the vigilance of our contributors to supply this unavoidable defect in our scheme.

For the period from Milton to the present day, we shall after a time issue a list of Burke's words, and ask for a quotation from the modern writers for all words, &c. not in the list.

In the mean time, however, contributors who may prefer to work at the 18th or 19th century literature will render us invaluable service by a careful analysis of the works of any of the principal writers, extracting all remarkable words, and all passages which contain definitions or explanations, or which, by reason of their intrinsic merit, are specially eligible as illustrative quotations. We have not given a list of these writers, as their names must be familiar to all; but Wordsworth, Scott, Coleridge, Southey, Tennyson, Ruskin, Macaulay, and Froude may be mentioned as pre-eminently important.

And in each period we shall ask all our contributors to give us extracts for words now obsolete, in order that we may, by comparing such extracts, ascertain the last appearance in our literature of every such obsolete word.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the work in which our contributors may help us at once is—

- I. Agreeing to take a 1300-1526 book, and reading it till our Index for the period 1250-1300 comes out; then making the extracts for the new words, &c. in it.
- II. Agreeing to take any work comprised in the period 1526-Milton, and extracting forthwith all passages containing words, senses of words, and phrases, not in the Bible or Shakspere.

III. Agreeing to take one of the principal 18th or 19th century writers, and extracting words and passages in the manner mentioned above.

And further we shall gladly receive, 1st, any well-considered definitions of words; and 2nd, any well-considered distinctions of words from the synonyms with which they are likely to be confounded.

A few practical remarks may be added in conclusion. Two great obstacles have to be encountered during the early part of the work, which nothing but the earnest cooperation of those who have knowledge, and of those also who have leisure, will suffice to overcome. In the first place, the difficulties of the language, in which the early romances, &c. are written, will, we fear, operate to deter many from rendering assistance, whose services would prove invaluable if employed on an Elizabethan author; and secondly, the excessive rarity of most of the books themselves, which form our authorities for this period, will exclude nearly all who cannot read them in the British Museum or the Bodleian, or some other large library, where alone they are likely to be found. Many poems and other pieces, a collation of which would be invaluable for such a work as this, still lie hid in MS. Others have been brought out by printing clubs of exclusive constitution, such as the Roxburghe and Abbotsford, or for private circulation only, and might, for all that the public in general is the better for them, just as well have remained in MS., being of course utterly unprocurable, except in great libraries, and not always there. We cannot but express an earnest hope that those who are qualified to assist us in this portion of our task (and there are many) will not hesitate to come forward at once, and save us from the necessity of delegating that, which no efforts of our own will enable us to accomplish by ourselves, to persons less fitted for this peculiar work.

We have endeavoured to include in the foregoing remarks all such information respecting the plan and theory of our Dictionary as may enable the public to judge of its pretensions and claims to support. Mere typographical and editorial details respecting the size of the work, or the arrangement of the articles, must be made the subjects of a special communication: it would be obviously premature to speak decidedly on such points now, or to bind ourselves down to adopt a certain form, which subsequent experience might lead us to modify with advantage. All that is desired at present is to enlist the sympathies of the public on behalf of the work, and to bring, as far as possible, the scattered learning and energy which exists plentifully enough in this country, if it can be but effectually reached and addressed, to bear upon a common, and we may add national, object. At present it is abundantly clear, that England does not possess a Dictionary worthy of her language; nor, as long as lexicography is confined to the isolated efforts of a single man, is it possible that such a work should be written. We do but follow the example of the Grimms, when we call upon Englishmen to come forward and write their own Dictionary for themselves, and we trust that our invitation may be responded to still more effectually than theirs has been.

RULES AND DIRECTIONS FOR COLLECTORS,

as agreed upon by the Literary and Historical Committee.

[N.B. Etymological Contributors are referred to the separate Rules and Directions given in pages 11 & 12.]

Three Bases of Comparison are recognized:—

- 1 & 2. The Lists of Words for the earliest and the modern periods that the Committee issue.
- 3. The Concordances to the Bible and Shakspere for the period from the Reformation to Milton.

The following rules apply, mutatis mutandis, to all classes of Collectors alike.

RULES.

I. Extract from your Book quotations containing all the words, PHRASES, IDIOMS, and VARIETIES OF FORM in it that are now obsolete, and all not occurring in your Bases of Comparison. [The former branch of the rule secures our having the latest, and the latter the earliest, usage of every word.]

- a. Of compound words, include all permanent or wedded compounds, as 'downfall,' 'sunbeam,' &c.; those which illustrate some grammatical figure (as tmesis), or which by reason of their metaphorical use or otherwise convey an idea different from that which the mere composition of their separate parts would give rise to, as "jackstraw," "nipfarthing," "bedsister," "time-honoured," "head-strong."
- β. Under phrases, include proverbs, and proverbial expressions, and idiomatic phrases like Daniel Rogers's "No is?" = "Is it not so?," * Holland's (Sueton. 182) "heavy friend" = "foe," and Caxton's "such four as" = "four times as many as." And give parallels, where possible, from other languages.
- γ . Under idioms, include disused syntactical combinations like Chapman's "was climbed" = "had climbed," Fuller's "satisfied in" = "satisfied as to," giving parallel instances as in β .
- δ. Under varieties of form, include all such orthographic varieties as tend to throw light on the etymology of a word, to illustrate some law of language (as metathesis), or which are in themselves specially remarkable. Thus 'avoutry' for 'adultery,' 'fersse' for 'fresh,' 'brid' for 'bird,' 'patrone' for 'pattern,' should be registered, while 'wode' for 'wood,' 'sunne' for 'sun,' are unimportant. Also all subforms or nebenformen, as 'awk' for 'awkward,' 'nig' for 'niggard,' and all forms denoting imperfect naturalization, as 'antidotum' for 'antidote,' and 'epocha' for 'epoch,' should be registered.
- II. Collectors are further requested to transcribe all passages falling under one or other of the heads following:
 - e. Passages which give an account of, or implicitly serve to mark, the first introduction of a word into the language, or first use of it in an entirely new sense.
 - ζ. Passages which consciously discuss or unconsciously reveal the etymology of a word, or the rationale of a name.
 - η. Passages which contain happy definitions or explanations.
- * "Fornication is no mortal sin because there is no text of Scripture that saith so. 'No is?' What means that then of Paul, Col. iii. 5?"

- 6. Passages which serve to distinguish any word from the synonyms with which it is likely to be confounded, either by felicitous opposition or by avowed discrimination; and which assign to each the province which is properly its own.
- ι. Passages illustrating the earlier uses which words have now left behind them, and the successive modifications of meaning through which they have passed.

[See Examples, p. 12.]

MECHANICAL AND PRACTICAL REGULATIONS.

1. Each word or phrase should be written out with its quotation and reference on a separate half-sheet of note-paper, lengthwise, and on one side of the paper only.*

[N.B. A ream of common note-paper costs 2s.; this should contain 600 separate sheets and 1200 half-sheets, thus admitting of the registration of 1200 words at a trifling expense.]

It is most earnestly requested that this rule may be strictly and undeviatingly followed, its object being to enable the Editors to sort the various contributions at once into alphabetical groups, and so to prevent the accumulations of matter from becoming unmanageable.

- 2. The edition made use of should be stated once for all by written communication to the Secretary, and throughout adhered to; and in the references, page, chapter and section, and verse where existing, should be given.
- 3. An earlier edition of a work should be preferred to one more recent, where choice is practicable;—this, however, is merely intended as a general rule, and must be subject to the circumstances of each particular case.
- 4. In transcribing quotations the original spelling should always be preserved; and when any words are for brevity's sake omitted, the omissions should be designated by dots. Moreover, each quotation should be extensive enough'to carry a complete sense by itself: mere fragments of sentences enclosing a particular word are unintelligible and useless, and, in fact, are not quotations at all.
- 5. It is requested that all persons who may feel disposed to undertake any work or works will be kind enough to signify their intention to the Secretary of the Literary and Historical
- * The exact method of transcription is shown by the specimen given at the back of p. 31.

Committee, and at the same time to mention the name or title of the work or works they may select for investigation, so that two persons may not be engaged in traversing the same ground. Also it is most earnestly requested that all Collectors who have already undertaken to peruse works for the Society, will, at their earliest convenience, forward their contributions to the Secretary, in order that progress may be made in methodizing and arranging the already large mass of material accumulated.

6. All communications for the Literary and Historical Committee are to be addressed to Herbert Coleridge, Esq., at his residence, 10 Chester Place, Regent's Park, N.W.

RULES AND DIRECTIONS FOR COLLECTORS,

as agreed upon by the Etymological Committee.

All persons who may feel desirous of contributing to the Etymological portion of the work are requested to direct their attention specially to the following heads of inquiry:—

1. The etymology of English words hitherto unexplained or wrongly explained.

As many etymologies can only be made to carry conviction to the mind by the collation of numerous instances, collectors will be at liberty to treat words in groups whenever they think that method advantageous.

It is also most important, whenever it can be done, to trace the radical element of each English word into that language where it still possesses vitality. Thus we may trace back our English 'mad' to the Skr. mad to be intoxicated, cf. Skr. madhu wine, mead, $\mu \ell \theta v$; 'man' to the Skr. man to think, cf. manu; 'foot' to the Skr. pad to go; 'wind' to the Skr. vá (part. pres. vát, nom. ván, original form vânts) to blow; and 'day,' Skr. diva, to the verb div to shine. The Old-English welk and welew, Germ. welken, to fade or wither, are explained by the Finn walkia white, walawa whitish, walkaista to whiten; compare English walker a fuller or whitener of cloth, Ital. gualcare to full, Finn walkki, fullonium.

2. The formation of lists of English words illustrating the exact value or values, and the history, of the various prefixes and suffixes employed in our language, such as a-, be-, dis-, un-, -ly, -ling, -ing, &c. &c.

The lists should contain every English word having the prefix or suffix, and thus show, for instance, what words have the verbal un-, what the adjectival un-; whether be- has other values than a locative one and one of completion, &c. For suffixes, reference may be made to Mr. Wedgwood's discussion of -ly, Phil. Soc. Trans. 1856, p. 176; Prof. Key's paper on English Diminutives, ib. p. 219; and Mr. H. Coleridge's on -let, Phil. Soc. Trans. 1857, p. 93.

All communications for the Etymological Committee are to be addressed to the President, Hensleigh Wedgwood, Esq., 17 Cumberland Terrace, Regent's Park, London, N.W.

Examples illustrative of the preceding Rules.

I. a. COMPOUND WORDS.

Sun-stead = solstice.

"Now was it the season of the yeer past sun-stead in summer and neer unto the houre of noon-stead in the day, so as they journeyed in a way full of dust, when the sun was exceeding hot; and even now they began to feel thirst and weariness already."—P. Holland, Livie, p. 1193. (1600.)

Ship-road = harbour.

"That which looketh toward the South, is called according as it is in deed Naustathmos [namely a ship-rode or harbour], for it is able to receive a great number of ships."—P. Holland, Livic, p. 963. (1600.)

Lease-monger.

"I speak it not to flatter, but in reproach of those moneymongers, those lease-mongers, those canibals, that dishonor the citie wherein they dwell, but uprightly I speake it, that you may not thinke I raile upon mallice against any private man for any private quarrel." — Maroccus Extaticus, Percy Soc. (reprint), p. 19. (1595.)

TMESIS.

"Thurch feld and thurch wode hye geth All the winter long night*."

Lay le Freine, v. 139. (14th cent.)

I. β. Phrases.—Proverbs.

"Wel fist that wel flist, seith the wise."

Owl & Nightingale, v. 176. (13th cent.)

* Quoted by Guest in Philol. Soc. Trans. vol. v. pp. 100, 101.

"In olde termys it is found,

He that lovythe me, lovythe my hound,

And my servaunt also."

Early Engl. Misc. (Warton Club) p. 62. (15th cent.)

IDIOMATIC PHRASES.

To con thanke = to give thanks.

"Wherfore the kyng coude hym moche thanke."

Caxton's Chronicle, c. 167. (1480.)

Strong death = violent death.

"The he (king Gowan) destroyed al this lond and the cristen peple that was in much Britayn so that no man was so hardy for to name God, and he that so dyd anone he was put to strong death."—1480. Caxton's Chronicle, c. 52.

To wipe a person beside a thing = to cheat him out of it.

"For if they by covin or guile be wiped beside their goods, so that no violence be done to their bodies, they ease their anger by abstaining from occupying with that nation until they have made satisfaction."—More's Utopia, translated by Raphe Robinson (1551), b. ii. c. 10 (vol. ii. p. 167 in Dibdin's reprint).

To keep true touch = keep good faith.

"The King (Edw. III.) in Council resolved to withdraw the Mart or Staple of Woolls from the Towns of Flanders, because that People, thô they received much Advantage thereby, had not kept true Touch with him."—1688. Barnes, Hist. of Edw. III. p. 472.

To save his bacon.

"He was resolved to take a course like the Soldier in Terence, to save his Bacon."—Translation of Milton's Defence of the People of England, ed. 1698, p. 561.

I. γ. IDIOMS.

Me tolth = they tell, i.e. reckon, account of.

"So that heymen of this lond, that of her blod come, Holdeth alle thulke speche that hii of hem nome; Vor bote a man couthe Frenche, me tolth of him wel lute."

Robert of Gloucester, p. 364. (13th cent.)

Such thirty = thirty times as many as.

"And natheles here ferde wox fast aboute wyde

For heo hadde such thritti men as were on the other syde."

Robert of Gloucester, p. 19. (13th cent.)

CONSTRUCTIONS.

Cleanse with (A.S. wið against) = cleanse from.

"Vor me (the owl) is lof to Cristes huse To clansi hit with fule muse (foul mouse)."

Owl & Nightingale, v. 609. (13th cent.)

I. δ. Nebenformen.

Hank == hanker.

"So frustrate of my purpose I fall into want, and where I hanked after plentie I have runne upon scarcitee."—Letters of Eminent Men (Camden Soc.) p. 71. (13th Sept. 1589.)

IMPERFECT NATURALIZATION.

Automaton.

"The other was the picture of a gentlewoman, whose eies were contrived with that singularitie of cunning, that they moved up and down of themselves, not after a seeming manner, but truly and indeed. For I did very exactly view it. But I believe it was done by a vice [see vis Cotgr.] which the Grecians call avróματον."—Coryat's Crudities, p. 254. (1611.)

"And now because these parts (the movers and the moved) are parts of one whole, we call the entire thing automatum or se movens or a living creature."—Sir Kenelm Digby, of Bodies, c. 23. p. 259. (1669.)

Criterion.

"Lastly, from this philosophy it is also manifest that sense is not the κριτήριον of truth concerning bodies themselves, if confidently pronouncing that these supposed qualities of bodies represented such by sense are merely phantastical things."—Cudworth's Intellectual System, p. 47. (1678.)

Precipice.

"I admired one thing very much in those vineyards, that they should be planted in such wonderful steepe places underneath the hils, where a man would thinke it were almost impossible for a labourer to worke, such is the præcipitium of the hill towards the descent."—Coryat's Crudities, p. 72. (1611.)

II. e. The first introduction of a word, directly or indirectly. Under-earth = subterranean.—For the latter the earliest authority quoted by Richardson is Bacon's Naturall Historie (1627), though it occurs in Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy, Part I. sec. 2. mem. 1. subs. 2. (1621.) "Philip the tetrarch of Trachonitis by casting chaff therein (into the Jordan) which was paid him again at Dan, first found out this under-earth passage."—Purchas's Pilgrims, p. 104, 2nd edit. (1614.)

Tulip.

"And now within these foure years (1578-82) there have been brought into England from Vienna in Austria divers kinds of flowers called Tulipas."—Hakluyt's Voyages, vol. ii. p. 165, ed. 1598.

Humiliate, Civilization.

"I asked him (Johnson) if humiliating was a good word. He said he had seen it frequently used, but he did not know it to be legitimate English. He would not admit civilization, but only civility."—Boswell's Johnson, ætat. 63. (1772.)

II. ζ. Ετγμοιοσγ or rationale of a name.

Chirurgery.

"Chirurgery, therefore (as Angelus Bolognius in the prologe to his boke of the cure of externall ulcers, sayeth), is the moste aunciente, ye, the moste sure and excellente parte of the arte of medicyne, whiche worketh by handy operation. For the name thereof whiche was geven thereto by moste auncyent authores, signifieth nothynge elsse; for chirurgery is Operatio Manualis, that is, handye worke. Wherfore syth it is a parte of phisike, we can not so rightlye name it in Englishe, as to call it the handye worke of medicine."—1565. John Halle, An Historiall Expostulation, Percy Soc. reprint, 1844, p. 41.

II. η. DEFINITIONS OR EXPLANATIONS.

Kerne.

"Kerne [see Macbeth] significth (as noble men of deep iudgement informed me) a shower of hell, because they are taken for no better than for rakehels, or the divels blacke gard, by reason of the stinking sturre they keepe, wheresoever they be."—1574.

R. Stanihurst, Description of Ireland in Holinshed (2nd edit.), ch. 8.

Insect.

"You may understand by insect, 'life in sections'—diffused generally over the parts."—Coleridge, Table-talk (3rd edit. 1854), p. 62.

II. θ. Synonymous Words.

Symulacres and Ydoles.

"But betweene Symulacres and Ydoles is a gret difference. For Symulacres ben ymages made aftre lyknesse of men or of women, or of the sonne or of the mone, or of ony best, or of ony kyndely thing; and Ydoles is an ymage made of lewed wille of man, that man may not fynden among kyndely thinges; as an ymage, that hathe 4 hedes, on of a man, another of an hors, or of an ox, or of sum other best, that no man hathe seen aftre kyndely disposicioun."—1366. Sir John Maundevile, Voiage and Travaile, reprint, 1839, p. 164.

Keenness and Subtlety.

"Few men of genius are keen, but almost every man of genius is subtle. If you ask me the difference between keenness and subtlety, I answer that it is the difference between a point and an edge. To split a hair is no proof of subtlety, for subtlety acts in distinguishing differences, in showing that two things apparently one are in fact two; whereas to split a hair is to cause division, not to distinguish difference."—Coleridge, Table-talk, p. 148.

Fancy and Imagination.

"The fancy brings together images which have no connection natural or moral, but are yoked together by the poet by means of some accidental coincidence; the imagination modifies images and gives unity to variety; it sees all things in one, il più nell' uno."—Id. ibid. p. 327.

"The fancy sees the outside, and is able to give a portrait of the outside, clear, brilliant, and full of detail.

"The imagination sees the heart and inner nature, and makes them felt; but is often obscure, mysterious, interrupted in its giving of outer detail."—Ruskin, Modern Painters, vol. ii. pp. 157, 158.

II. c. EARLIER MEANINGS.

Undo =preach, expound.

"The Nychodemus to hym [Christ] come
At one tyme by ny;te,
To lerny;

And he ondede hym cristendom." cir. 1320. W. de Shorcham's Poems. Percy Soc. p. 79.

Biddings = commandments.

"In heven shall dwelle alle cristen men
That knowe & kepe Goddes byddynges ten."
eir. 1450. Speculum Xtiani. (W. de Machlin.)

Paramour (in a good sense).

"To his moder then gan he [Christ] say,
'For this mylke me muste day,
It is myn kynde therwith to play,
My swete moder, myn paramour.'"

Songs and Carols from a 15th cent. MS., Warton Club, 1856, p. 48.

Catalogue of the Members of the Society.

The bulk of this volume is devoted to Mr. Gallatin's Essay on the Structure of the Indian Languages, and the data on which it is based. The latter consist of the following papers: 1. Grammatical Notices on the various stock tribes of North America: with two Maps. 2. Verbal forms, exhibiting specimens of simple conjugations and transitions, in fifteen languages. 3. Vocabularies and select sentences, preceded by a tabular view of the American tribes, as far as they are known, to the number of sixty-four distinct tribes or bands. . . . This body of documentary matter is preceded by upwards of 200 pages of historical and critical text, in which the author unfolds the result of his reading and reflections on the subject. This Introductory Essay is terminated with "General Observations," which every one ought to read, who admires accurate observations, sound philosophy, and just criticism.

pp. 260. Philadelphia, 1836.

Mr. Rafinesque was a laborious student in almost every conceivable department of knowledge, and only wanted the faculty of judicious discrimination to secure him a distinguished name among men of science. He was of foreign birth, and had been a resident in Sicily, and first travelled in the United States in 1802, 1803, and 1804. Before 1815, he had published a very considerable number of treatises, chiefly upon Natural History, from observations in this country and in Sicily, with others of a more general character. In 1815, he returned to America, and had the misfortune to be shipwrecked on the coast; losing, according to his own statement, all is "books, manuscripts, plates, drawings, maps, herbarium, cellections, minerals, &c., the fruit of twenty years' labours, exertions, and travels." Some of his lost MSS., on Botany, Zoology, Mineralogy, &c., he undertook to re-write, and endeavoured to obtain subscriptions for their publication here. In 1838, he printed an essay introductory to a proposed work, to be entitled "Researches on the Antiquities and Monuments of North and South America." He died at Philadelphia, in 1840.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Of the industry bestowed upon this extensive compilation, and of the marvellons condensation of fact which it supplies, it is difficult to speak in terms of proper commendation; even to the most accomplished bibliographer it cannot fail to be of great service, but how much more to the tyro or ordinary bibliographer."-Brownson's Review.

"There is more variety, interest, and even life, in the Memoirs of Libraries, than might be expected. Mr. Edwards has a more comprehensive mind and a more sensible judgment than always characterise the tribe of librarii. His style has not an undue spirit of rhetoric, which throws off anything approaching to the manner of Dryasdust."-Spectator.

"Both as a history of libraries and a manual of their economy, this work is valnable: delightful to the scholar in the first respect; in the second, indispensable to the librarian."-Critic.

"We now take leave of these volumes, feeling that we have given a very imperfect indication of their contents, and strongly recommend them to the consideration of all persons connected with or interested in libraries, public or private, because they contain a vast quantity of information never before collected, and much that would be sought for in vain elsewhere."-Bookseller.

"Mr. Edwards's style is pleasant, and free from the slang and pedantry of many more costly productions in the field of bibliogra-phy. If we feel occasionally inclined to differ from the author's views and deductions, we do so at all times with some deference, because throughout the work it is evident that he has been earnest to furnish the fullest and most satisfactory information which it was in his power to do."-Leader.

"It is now generally conceded that the civilization of a people may be judged rather by the number and value of its private libraries, than by the extent and magnificence of those provided by the Sovereign. Such being the case, it is incumbent upon us to examine our position in this particular, by comparison with other nations, This we are now enabled to do, for the first time, by the aid afforded in Mr. Edwards's 'Memoirs of Libraries,' which exhibits a mass of evidence such as only the greatest devotion to the subject, perseveringly continued through many years, could have accumulated. So completely is the subject exhausted, that it would be vain and useless for the inquirer to push his researches further in order to obtain a clear view of the libraries of the past and present; for what of interest or value he finds not in these volumes he will scarcely hope to obtain elsewhere."-Gentleman's Magazine.

"The various schemes propounded for the classification of knowledge-the extent to which libraries may safely be made available for public use-their internal economy, and the qualifications essential for their management-these are subjects which it would have afforded us both pleasure and profit to have discussed with Mr. Edwards. But it is time to take leave of him with the respect due to a writer whom some diffuseness, occasional want of discrimination, and a few doubtful views, will not debar from a cordial reception wherever industry is appreciated or crudition recognised."-Press.

IMPORTANT WORK ON ENGLISH AND AMERICAN LITERARY HISTORY.

A Critical Dictionary of English Literature,

AND BRITISH AND AMERICAN AUTHORS.

LIVING AND DECEASED, FROM THE EARLIEST ACCOUNTS TO THE MIDDLE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

Containing 31,000 Biographies and Literary Notices. With an Index of Subject Matter.

By S. AUSTIN ALLIBONE.

The Second Volume (letter K. to Z, likewise exceeding 1000 pp.), which is in a very forward state (being stereotyped as far as the letter S), will complete the work, and be published, with a most elaborate Index of Subject-Matter, in the Autumn of 1859, on the same terms as the first Volume.

The above important work was originally announced to be published in 1857, in one Volume, imperial 8vo., of about 1500 pages, and the first appeal to the public on its behalf was signally successful. The delay in the publication seems to have caused a feeling of disappointment among the patrons of the work, but it is hoped that this feeling will give way to one of lively satisfaction when the first half of it is examined. The high expectations raised by the mere announcement made it incumbent upon the Author and Publishers to spare no expense or trouble to bring the work to the greatest state of perfection; and although stereotyped to the letter H at the time it was first announced, that portion has been entirely revised, partly rewritten, and so much new matter introduced, that the subscribers will now receive above 2000 pages, at no increase of price.

DESCRIPTIVE TITLE.

THE characteristics of the work, which have not been united in any previous undertaking of the kind, are as follow:-

- "1. It is a Biographical Dictionary of English and American Authors, comprising both the living and the dead; furnishing those incidents respecting the persons who have made themselves famous in the Republic of Letters, which every reader desires to know, and few know where to find.
- "2. It is a Bibliographical Manual, giving information as to the best editions of authors, the circumstances attending their publication, the reception which they met with from the public, the influence they have exercised on the public mind, and many other interesting particulars, not one of which the true lover of books and student of letters would 'willingly let die.'
- "As a Bibliographical Manual, the Index, which forms the second portion of the volume, will prove no small addition to its value. In this Index the subjects of human knowledge are divided into forty distinct classes, and an alphabet is allotted to each. By this means the reader is enabled to see at a glance who are the principal writers on all subjects, from Agriculture, Class 1st, to Voyages, Class 40th.

"It is thought that this Index will contain between 40,000 and 50,000 names, yet no author is mentioned whose works are not noticed in the first part of the Dictionary.

"It is a Critical as well as a Biographical and Bibliographical Dictionary. Here the author has a great advantage over his predecessors, without a single exception. Makers of books approaching to the character of this are in the habit of giving their own opinions, or opinions adopted as their own, which must be based upon very partial knowledge, and one, therefore, of little value; or are apt to be tinctured with prejudice and party bias, and are therefore entitled to little confidence. But Mr. Allibone contents himself with adducing the opinions upon various writers, as they come under his notice, of critics of great and extended reputation, who have earned a claim to be heard with respect, if not in all cases with entire acquiescence. These invaluable specimens of criticism are quoted verbatim, and distinguished by a smaller type, which adds greatly to the beauty of the work."

To the above Summary of the Work the Publishers beg leave to append the following remarks:—

It contains, it is believed, the names of every Author in English Literature and Science, living and dead, that anybody would think of looking for. Their dates are given, and the dates of their several publications. Critical notices by writers of authority are always added, and with such fairness and copiousness as challenge a constant surprise, and afford, besides, a most instructive and entertaining exhibition of the judgments of capable men upon the qualities and characters of the celebrities of literature. The compiler of these authoritative criticisms, however, does not avoid his own responsibilities, but frankly and ably sets down his own opinions, wherever any interest of moral truth or literary justice is involved.

The second division of the work will contain "a copious index of subjects," arranged alphabetically, under such heads as Agriculture, Antiquities, Chemistry, Divinity, Drama, Law, Political Economy, Biography, etc. etc.; so that the inquirer can find at a glance all the authors of any note under the title of the subject upon which he has written. This division, besides being a most interesting presentment of authorship classified—a table of the sciences and of their cultivators—is an invaluable index to the biographies and literary notices, for the use of students in every profession, and of every specific pursuit. Together, the two divisions will be to study what the alphabet of the ledger and the account of stock on hand are to the merchant. Booksellers, school committees, and librarians, will perceive their practical interest in it, as much as merchants, farmers, lawyers, doctors, clergymen, and mechanics, in their several ways require it; and authors, too—for the living labourers in literature are all upon the record—will find themselves, each in his appropriate place, in this great gathering of celebrities. In a word, the book is constructed upon a plan, and the plan executed with such success, that it will serve not only as a directory, but as a guide to study, a catalogue, invoice, and manual to the trade in literature.

MODE AND TERMS OF PUBLICATION.

THE WORK—Volume I., comprising the letters A to J, pp. 1005, is issued. The second Volume, comprising letters K to Z, already stereotyped as far as letter S, will be published, with the Index of Subject-matter, in Autumn, 1859, and exceed 1000 pages.

FORM AND STYLE-2 Volumes, imperial 8vo., containing above 2000 pages, elegantly and closely printed in double column, on the finest paper.

Price—£1: 16s. (Thirty-six Shillings) per Copy, to subscribers before publication—18s. to be paid upon delivery of each Volume; £2:8s. to non-subscribers, or 24s. each Volume.

^{* *} A specimen page will be forwarded on application to the Publishers.

CRITICAL OPINIONS.

"Most truly is Mr. Allibone's Dictionary a great work, which cannot fail of being extensively useful, from the comprehensiveness of its plan, and also for the ability, persevering industry, patience of research, impartiality and accuracy, with which it is executed. The character and value of the works of eminent authors is a happy thought, and cannot fail to be of great service to future bibliographers and librarians in the selection and purchase of books.

"Mr. Allibone's list of authorities consulted includes (I believe) every work of any value. My own knowledge of American authors has hitherto been derived chiefly from the best edition of 'Allen's American Biography,' and from Mr. Trübner's concise but truly valuable 'Guide to American Literature.' But henceforth Mr. Allibone's researches will leave nothing to be desired."—Rev. Thomas 'Hartwell Horne, in a Letter to the Publishers.

"Mr. Allibone, an American gentleman of wide reading, is engaged on a 'Critical Dic-tionary of English Literature,' a work very seriously needed. Lowndes is very imperfect. Watt is out of date, is also very imperfect, and is out of print. Mr. Allibone is said, on high American authority, to be well prepared for his task. His method, of which we can judge for ourselves, is novel: his plan being to supply the facts about his authors himself, and to quote opinions about them from distinguished critical contemporaries and successors. For example, under the title of Opinions on Burke,' there are forty brief excerpts from Samuel Johnson, Arthur Murphy, Lord Jeffrey, Professor Smyth, Dugald Stewart, James Prior, the Earl of Chatham, King George III., Charles James Fox, John Roche, M. Cazales, William Wyndham, Gerard Hamilton, Mr. Curwen, Rev. Thomas Campbell, Dr. French Laurence, Edward Gibbon, Richard Cumberland, William Wilberforce, Thomas James Mathias, Lord Thurlow, Rev. Dr. Samuel Parr, Henry Grattan, Oliver Goldsmith, Mr. Richards, the Duke de Levis, Warren Hastings, R. B. Sheridan, F. Schlegel, Robert Hall, George Crabbe, Samuel Warren, T. B. Macaulay, Rev. Dr. C. A Goodrich, Mr. Shackleton, Sir James Mackintosh, Sir Robert Peel, Lord John Russell, Lord Erskine, and Lord Brougham. This gives an idea of the work. By such a plan the reader is presented with a History of Opinion on great writers, as well as a History of their Works. If Mr. Allibone's 'Dictionary' proves to be as able in execution as it is felicitous in conception, it will be welcome to many libraries in England as well as in America."—Athenœum, Jan. 5th, 1856.

"That which the entire bookselling trade of London could not effect, a Philadelphian gentleman has been quietly to some extent executing in distant America. Mr. S. Austin Allibone, by great and conscientious labour, extending over a long period of time, has completed the compilation of 'A Critical Dictionary of English Literature, and British and American Authors, Living and Deceased, from the Earliest Accounts to the Middle of the Nineteenth Century.' Some sheets of this work having been shown to us, we are enabled to give some account of its nature and plan. In the first place, it will contain upwards of thirty thousand names—a larger number than has ever been collected before in any similar work. Watt's 'Bibliotheca' contains rather less than 23,00 names, and Chalmers's has only 9000. In the next place, each name has a short biographical notice appended; and in many cases critical observations, mostly extracted from well-known and respectable sources, are appended to the list of works. One volume of 1500 closely but clearly printed pages will be the full extent of the work, which will thus be within the reach of those whose means do not permit them to purchase large and expensive works. It would be too much to expect perfection in such a task, executed by a single hand; but, from what we have seen, we have no hesitation in predicting that Mr. Allibone's Dictionary will be a most valuable work." - Critic, December, 1855.

"Mr. Allibone's work is warmly commended by Irving, Prescott, Bryant, Everett, Bancroft, Sparks, and other distinguished scholars and men of letters in America. The only book of the kind now in use is 'Watt's Bibliotheca Britannica,' supplemented by the London Catalogues. Watt is in four bulky and expensive quartos, and is now nearly 30 years old. That it has nothing about American books is a sufficient motive for another work being required in the States; but in England, also, a book of bibliographical reference, with critical and biographical notices, is a desideratum, and we are prepared to receive Mr. Allibone's Dictionary with favour."

—Literary Gazette.

"We have had an opportuniny of inspecting that portion of Mr. Allibone's Bibliographical Dictionary which has already been printed, 'and are glad to hear that the entire work will be ready for issue in a very short time. We understand that arrangements have been made by Mr. Trübner to publish it in America and in England on the same day."-Critic, Feb. 15th, 1856.

"It has been reserved for an American gentleman to produce the first complete Dictionary of the literature and literary men of England and America, which has yet appeared in either country. The work will contain about an examination of the first 464 pages, completing the letters A, B, and C, has convinced us that the author has brought to his task all the requisites of the Encyclopædist—the most patient industry and painstaking leve of detail and accuracy. The Rev. T. Hartwell Horne, than whom we know no greater authority upon bibliographical matters, and to whom the work was submitted as far as printed, passes the following high eulogium upon it:-'Most truly is Mr. Allibone's Dictionary a great work, which cannot fail of being extensively useful, from the comprehensiveness of its plan, and also for the ability, persevering industry, patience of research, impartiality, and accuracy, with which it is executed,' etc. The work will be published by subscription, and not to be accessible to the book trade for a whole year after publication, and then only at an increased price. Mr. Trübner, the American bookseller, of Paternoster-row, has succeeded in effecting an arrangement by which he will issue subscribers' copies in this country simultaneously with the American publishers."-Bent's Lit. Advertiser, Feb. 1856.

Copy of Letter from Cardinal Wiseman to S. Austin Allibone, Esq.

"London, Feb. 18, 1859.

"Dear Sir,-I thank you very sincerely for the first volume of your Dictionary of Authors. I have tested its value in two different ways: first, by looking at the accounts of comparatively unknown or obscure authors, hardly to be found in ordinary biographical works, and then by glancing at the history of celebrated ones, whose lives have occupied volumes. Your work stands both tests admirably. I have found more about the first class of writers than I have ever seen elsewhere, and than I could have anticipated in so comprehensive a work; while the interesting points in the literary lives of those belonging to the second, are brought out in sufficient detail and treated with sufficient accuracy to render further reference or inquiry unnecessary. I congratulate you on the success of your herculean undertaking, and am

I heartily wish you success proportioned to the labour and cost of your undertaking.

Alphabetical Index.

This work, it is believed is the first attempt to marshal the Literature of the United States of America during the last forty years, according to the generally received bibliographical canons. The Librarian will welcome it, no doubt, as a companion volume to Brunet, Lowndes and Ebert, whilst to the bookseller it will be a faithful guide to the American branch of English Literature—a branch which, on account of its rapid increase and rising importance, begins to force itself daily more and more upon his attention. Nor will the work be of less interest to the man of letters, inasmuch as it comprises complete Tables of Contents to all the more prominent Collections of the Americans, to the Journals, Memoirs, Proceedings and Transactions of their learned Societies—and thus furnishes an intelligible key to a department of American scientific activity hitherto but imperfectly known and understood in Europe.

A HANDBOOK OF AFRICAN, AUSTRALIAN, AND POLYNESIAN PHILOLOGY,

As represented in the Library of His Excellency Sir George Grey, K.C.B.

HER MAJESTY'S HIGH COMMISSIONER OF THE CAPE COLONY.

CLASSED, ANNOTATED, AND EDITED BY

SIR GEORGE GREY AND DR. W. H. J. BLEEK.

Vol. I. Part 1.—South Africa, 8vo. pp. 186. 7s. 6d.

Vol. I. Part 2.—Africa (North of the Tropic of Capricorn), 8vo. pp. 70. 2s.

Vol. II. Part 1.—Australia, 8vo. pp. iv., 44. 1s. 6d.

Vol. II. Part 2.—Papuan Languages of the Loyalty Islands and New Hebrides, comprising those of the Islands of Nengone, Lifu, Aneiteum, Tana, and others, 8vo. pp. 12. 6d.

Vol. II. Part 3.-Fiji Islands and Rotuma (with Supplement to Part 2, Papuan Languages, and Part 1, Australia.) 8vo. pp. 34. 1s.

Vol. II. Part 4.—New Zealand, the Chatham Islands, and Auckland Islands, 8vo. pp. 76. 3s. 6d.

Vol. II. Part 4 (Continuation). - Polynesia and Borneo, 8vo. pp. 77 to 154. 3s. 6d.

The above is, without exception, the most important addition yet made to African Philology. The amount of materials brought together by Sir George, with a view to elucidate the subject, is stupendous; and the labour bestowed on them, and the results arrived at, incontestably establish the claim of the Author to be called the father of African and Polynesian Philology.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We congratulate the Governor of the Cape on the production of a most important aid to the study of the twin sciences of philology and ethnology, and look forward to the completion of the Catalogue itself as a great and permanent step towards civilization of the barbarous races whose formation, habits, language, religion, and food, are all, more or less, most carefully noted in its pages."-Leader.

"It is for these substantial reasons that we deemed it worth a brief notice to call attention to these excellently arranged Catalogues (with important notes), describing the varirious works in the library of Sir George Grey, and by which this great philanthropist will greatly aid in civilizing the numerous peoples within the limit of the colony of the Cape of Good Hope."-Brighton Gazette.

TRUBNER'S BIBLIOTHECA GLOTTICA.

THE LITERATURE

ABORIGINAL LANGUAGES. AMERICAN

By HERMANN E. LUDEWIG.

With Additions and Corrections by Professor Wm. W. TURNER.

EDITED BY NICOLAS TRÜBNER.

8vo.; fly and general Title, 2 leaves; Dr. Ludewig's Preface, pp. v-viii; Editors' Preface, pp. ix—xii; Biographical Memoir of Dr. Ludewig, pp. xii, xiv; and Introductory Bibliographical Notices, pp. xiv—xxiv, followed by List of Contents. Then follow Dr. Ludewig's Bibliotheca Glottica, alphabetically arranged, with additions by the Editor, pp. 1-209; Professor Turner's additions, with those of the Editor to the same, also alphabetically arranged, pp. 210-246; Index. pp. 247-256; and list of Errata, pp. 257, 258. One volume, handsomely bound in cloth, price 10s. 6d.

This work is intended to supply a great want, now that the study of Ethnology has proved that exotic languages are not mere curiosities, but essential and interesting parts of the natural history of man, forming one of the most curious links in the great chain of national affinities, defining as they do the reciprocity existing between man and the soil he lives upon. No one can venture to write the history of America without a knowledge of her aboriginal languages; and unimportant as such researches may seem to men engaged in the mere bustling occupations of life, they will at least acknowledge that these records of the past, like the stern-lights of a departing ship, are the last glimmers of savage life, as it becomes absorbed or recedes before the tide of civilization. Dr. Ludewig and Professor Turner have made most diligent use of the public and private collections in America, access to all of which was most liberally granted to them. This has placed at their disposal the labours of the America. rican Missionaries, so little known on this side of the Atlantic that they may be looked upon almost in the light of untrodden ground. But English and Continental libraries have also been ransacked; and Dr. Ludewig kept up a constant and active correspondence with scholars of "the Fatherland," as well as with men of similar tastes and pursuits in France, Spain, and Holland, determined to leave no stone unturned to render his labours as complete as possible. The volume, perfect in itself, is the first of an enlarged edition of Vater's "Linguarum totius orbis Index." The work has been noticed by the press of both Continents, and we may be permitted to refer particularly to the following:

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"This work, mainly the production of the late Herr Ludewig, a German naturalized in America, is devoted to an account of the literature of the aboriginal languages of that country. It gives an alphabetical list of the various tribes of whose languages any record remains, and refers to the works, papers, or manuscripts, in which such information may be found. The work has evidently been a labour of love; and as no pains seems to have been spared by the editors, Prof. Turner and Mr. Trübner, in rendering the work as accurate and complete as possible, those who are most interested in its contents will be best able to judge of the labour and assiduity bestowed upon it by author, editors, and publisher."—Athenœum, 5th April, 1858.

"This is the first instalment of a work which will be of the greatest value to philologists; and is a compendium of the aboriginal languages of the American continents, and a digest of all the known literature bearing upon those languages. Mr. Trübner's hand has been engaged passim, and in his preface he lays claim to about one-sixth of the whole; and we have no doubt that the encouragement with which this portion of the work will be received by scholars, will be such as to inspire Mr. Trübner with sufficient confidence to persevere in his arduous and most honourable task"—The Critic, 15th Dec. 1857.

"Few would believe that a good octavo volume would be necessary to exhaust the subject; yet so it is, and this handsome, useful, and curious volume, carefully compiled by Mr. Ludewig, assisted by Professor Turner, and edited by the careful hand of Mr. Trübner, the well-known publisher, will be sure to find a place in many libraries."—Bent's Advertiser, 6th Nov. 1857.

"The lovers of American linguistics will find in the work of Mr. Trübner scarcely any point omitted calculated to aid the comparative philologer in tracing the various languages of the great Western Continent."— Galway Mercury, 30th Jan. 1858.

"Only those deeply versed in philological studies can appreciate this book at its full value. It shows that there are upwards of seven hundred and fifty aboriginal American languages." — Gentleman's Magazine, Feb. 1858.

"The work contains an account of no fewer than seven hundred different aboriginal dialects of America, with an introductory chapter of bibliographical information; and under each dialect is an account of any grammars or other works illustrative of it."—The Bookseller, Jan. 1858.

"We have here the list of monuments still existing of an almost innumerable series of languages and dialects of the American Continent. The greater part of Indian grammars and vocabularies exist only in MS., and were compiled chiefly by Missionaries of the Christian Church; and to Dr. Ludewig and Mr. Trübner, we are, therefore, the more indebted for the great care with which they have pointed out where such are to be found, as well as for enumerating those which have been printed, either in a separate shape, in collections, or in voyages and travels, and elsewhere."—Leader, 11th Sept. 1858.

"I have not time, nor is it my purpose, to go into a review of this admirable work, or to attempt to indicate the extent and value of its contents. It is, perhaps, enough to say, that apart from a concise but clear enumeration and notice of the various general philological works which treat with greater or less fulness of American languages, or which incidentally touch upon their bibliography, it contains not less than 256 closely-printed octavo pages of bibliographical notices of grammars, vocabularies, etc., of the aboriginal languages of America. It is a peculiar and valuable feature of the work that not only the titles of printed or published grammars or vocabularies are given, but also that unpublished or MS. works of these kinds are noticed in all cases where they are known to exist, but which have disappeared among the débris of the suppressed convents and religious establishments of Spanish America." -E. G. Squier, in a paper read before the American Ethnological Society, 12th Jan.

"In consequence of the death of the author before he had finished the revisal of the work, it has been carefully examined by competent scholars, who have also made many valuable additions."—American Publishers' Circular, 30th Jan. 1858.

"It contains 256 closely-printed pages of titles of printed books and manuscripts, and notices of American aboriginal languages, and embraces references to nearly all that has been written or published respecting them, whether in special works or incidentally in books of travel, periodicals, or proceedings of learned societies."—New York Herald, 29th Jan. 1858.

"The manner in which this contribution to the bibliography of American languages has been executed, both by the author, Mr. Ludewig, and the able writers who have edited the work since his death, is spoken of in the highest terms by gentlemen most conversant with the subject."—American Historical Magazine, Vol. II., No. 5, May, 1858.

"Je terminerai en anonçant le premier volume d'une publication appelée à rendre de grands services à la philologie comparée et à la linguistique générale. Je veux parler de la Bibliotheca Glottica, ouvrage devant renfermer la liste de tous les dictionnaires et de toutes les grammaires des langues connues, tant imprimés que manuscrits: L'éditeur, de cette précieuse bibliographie est M. Nicolas Trübner, dont le nom est honorablement connu dans le monde oriental. Le premier volume est consacré aux idiomes Américaines; le second doit traiter des langues de l'Inde. Le travail est fait avec le soin le plus consciencieux, et fera honneur à M. Nicolas Trübner, surtout s'il poursuit son œuvre avec le même ardeur qu'il mise à le commencer."—L. Léon de Rosny, Revue de l'Orient, Février, 1858.

"Mr. Trübner's most important work on the bibliography of the aboriginal languages of America is deserving of all praise, as eminently useful to those who study that branch of literature. The value, too, of the book, and of the pains which its compilation must have cost, will not be lessened by the consideration that it is first in this field of linguistic literature."—Petermann's Geographische Mittheilungen, p. 79, Feb. 1858.

"Undoubtedly this volume of Trübner's Bibliotheca Glottica ranks amongst the most valuable additions which of late years have enriched our bibliographical literature. us Germans it is most gratifying that the initiative has been taken by a German bookseller himself, one of the most intelligent and active of our countrymen abroad, to produce a work which has higher aims than mere pecuniary profit, and that he, too, has la-boured at its production with his own hands; because daily it is becoming a circumstance of rarer occurrence that, as in this case, it is a bookseller's primary object to serve the cause of literature rather than to enrich himself." - P. Trömel, Börsenblatt, 4th Jan. 1858.

"In the compilation of the work the editors have availed themselves not only of the labours of Vater, Barton, Duponceau, Gallatin, De Souza, and others, but also of the MS. sources left by the missionaries, and of many books of which even the library of the British Museum is deficient, and furnish the fullest account of the literature of no less than 525 languages. The value of the work, so necessary to the study of ethnology, is greatly enhanced by the addition of a good Index."

—Berliner National-Zeitung, 22nd Nov. 1857.

"The name of the author, to all those who are acquainted with his former works, and who know the thoroughness and profound character of his investigations, is a sufficient guarantee that this work will be one of standard authority, and one that will fully answer the demands of the present time."— Petzholdt's Anzeiger, Jan. 1858.

"The chief merit of the editor and publisher is to have terminated the work carefully and lucidly in contents and form, and thus to have established a new and largely augmented edition of "Vater's Linguarum totius orbis Index," after Professor Jülg's revision of 1847. In order to continue and complete this work the editor requires the assistance of all those who are acquainted with this new branch of science, and we sincerely hope it may be accorded to him."—Magazin für die Literatur des Auslandes, No. 38, 1858.

"As the general title of the book indicates, it will be extended to the languages of the other Continents in case it meet with a favourable reception, which we most cordially wish it."—A. F. Pott., Preussische Jahrbücher, Vol. II. part 1.

"Cette compilation savante est sans contredit, le travail bibliographique le plus important que notre époque ait vu surgir sur les nations indigènes de l'Amérique."—Nouvelles Annales des Voyages. Avril, 1859.

"La Bibliotheca Glottica, dont M. Nicolas Trübner a commencé la publication, est un des livres les plus utiles qui aient jamais été rédigés pour faciliter l'étude de la philologie comparée. Le premier tome de cette grande bibliographie linguistique comprend la liste textuelle de toutes les grammaires, de tous les dictionnaires et des vocabulaires même les moins étendus qui ont été imprimes dans les différents dialectes des deux Amériques; en outre, il fait connaître les ouvrages manuscrits de la même nature renfermés dans les principales bibliothèques publiques et par-ticulières. Ce travail a dû nécessiter de longues et patientes recherches; aussi méritet-il d'attirer tout particulièrement l'attention des philologues. Puissent les autres volumes de cette bibliothèque être rédigés avec le même soin et se trouver bientôt entre les mains de tous les savants auxquels ils peuvent rendre des services inappréciables."-Revue Américaine et Orientale, No. I., Oct.

The Editor has also received most kind and encouraging letters respecting the work from Sir George Grey, the Chevalier Bunsen, Dr. Th. Goldstucker, Mr. Watts (of the Museum), Professor A. Fr. Pott (of Halle), Dr. Julius Petzholt (of Dresden), Hofrath Dr. Grasse (of Dresden), M. F. F. de la Figaniere (of Lisbon), E. Edwards (of Manchester), Dr. Max Müller (of Oxford), Dr. Buschmann (of Berlin), Dr. Jülg (of Cracow), and other linguistic scholars.

The object of this work is to record in the form of a Dictionary the Literature of Technology and its kindred branches, dispersed over the different Journals and Magazines of all Nations.

In the Press.

MAPAS, PLANOS, VISTAS, ETC., RELATIVOS A LA AMERICA-ESPANOLA, BRASIL, E ISLAS ADYACENTES. Por el Dr. Ezequiel Uricoechea, de Bogota, Nueva Granada. 1 vol. 8vo.

A very useful companion to all works relating to the Bibliography of America.

BIBLIOTHEQUE AMERICAINE: OU CATALOGUE RAISONNE D'UNE PRECIEUSE COLLECTION DE LIVRES RELATIFS A L'AMERIQUE QUI ONT PARU DEPUIS SA DECOUVERTE JUSQU'A L'AN 1700. Par Paul Troemel. 8vo.

Amongst the 556 articles of which the Collection consists, at least 100 are not mentioned by any bibliographer. Indeed, only about 150 of them are found in Ternaux and Rich, which of itself is ample testimony of the importance, and must secure to the publication more than ordinary interest in the eyes of bibliographers and literary men.

TRÜBNER'S BIBLIOTHECA JAPONICA: A DESCRIPTIVE LIST OF BOOKS ILLUSTRATIVE OF JAPAN AND THE JAPANESE, FROM 1542 TO THE PRESENT TIME. Edited, with Critical and Historical Notes, by Dr. G. M. Asher.

The above work cannot fail to prove of great interest now that Japan is thrown open for European enterprise. The best Dutch, German, Portuguese, Spanish, Italian, French, English, Russian, and American Authorities, have been consulted in its production.
